The project “Youth Gambling in Croatia” is the first comprehensive project about adolescent gambling in Croatia. The project was started with a pilot research study conducted in March 2010 with the aim of assessing gambling activities among youth. The main purpose of this study was to determine the prevalence of gambling types, gambling problems among adolescents and their attitude toward thinking about gambling, prevalence of problem gambling among adolescents, and risk factors associated with it. Further phase of the project is the development and implementation of a prevention program in the school environment which is based on emergeral and scientific knowledge determined by the mentioned study. The project is financially and organizationally supported by Croatian Lottery Ltd., Faculty of Education and Rehabilitation University of Zagreb, Ministry of Science, Education and Sport, and Teacher Training Agency.

REFERENCES: